EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

You are enough. At all times, in all ways. In today's world of appearances, this notion can sometimes be hard to believe and we often find ourselves struggling with it. Maybe that's why so many people strive to be perfect or work towards creating a perfect environment in an attempt to better fit into the world view, however, what they fail to realise is that, it is the world that is imperfect, not them.

Often casual conversations have the potential to make us think purposeful thoughts. A family member was donning a beautiful ring to mark her special day. As we gushed about the pretty ring, she mentioned offhand how she had told her son that he should be able to afford such a ring before he thought of proposing someone. I understood that she wanted him to be financially secure and perhaps more emotionally mature, before taking a momentous step, however, I wondered if laying down such a condition took away from the whole notion of love and romance, unwittingly underscoring the idea of having to fit in. I appreciated the fact that she thought about the dreams and aspirations the girl might have, but I thought about the narrow lens and how material certainty, or symbolic representations of the same might not be a criteria when such an eventuality transpired. For all we know, the girl, in the distant future at best, could care more about poetry or origami rather than jewellery. Either way, in the shifting sands of today's times material felicity, or the quest for it might not provide a strong foundation for any kind of relationship. Even the one you have with yourself.

Instead, perhaps, focusing on emotional security, investing in yourself and on seeing yourself as a better person, being sure of who you are and what you really want, could be a positive step in the direction you want to go. If you decide you are enough, you are enough; you do not need anything more to be deemed worthy or valuable. You don't need to wait for some grand external validation of your worth before you offer your best to yourself or to someone else.

Don't wait to do something just because you are not enough, time does not know that. —Aditi Pant in Deccan Herald

Footpath parking, rash driving and silencer menace

Sir,

I request the traffic authorities concerned to take strict action on footpath parking in Lakshmipuram, adjacent to a College.

To add to the problem, the students are riding bullet bikes with after-market silencers and other two-wheelers around the park opposite to the College in a rash manner.

A few students also park the vehicles and stand in groups near the park. This is a social threat to safe movement of women, children and old people walking around the locality.

I request the authorities to take strict measures to avoid footpath parking on busy roads. The College should provide proper parking facility for students' vehicles. Also the students are riding through the footpath all the time without wearing helmets.

Tomato costs Rs. 120 per kilo, beans touch Rs. 100

No respite till a fortnight even if petrol and diesel prices are slashed

Mysuru, May 24 (RK,SBD & BCT)- Prices of vegetables have soared in city because unseasonal rains are widespread across Karnataka and Tamil Nadu. This is a wedding season and high vegetable prices have increased the food expenses, added to the rising prices of gold and other commodities.

Prices of common vegetables like beans and tomatoes have hit the roof and people are thinking twice to prepare daily dishes like tomato bath, gojju and sambar. When the rain began, prices of all vegetables were stable from Rs. 20 to Rs. 45 per kg and now, tomato prices have shot up to Rs. 80 - Rs. 120 per kg.

This morning, the prices of tomatoes in the markets ranged from Rs. 110 to Rs. 120 per kilo for good quality and the normal range was available for Rs. 80 to Rs. 100. In retail shops, there is an addition of Rs. 10 to Rs. 15 and good quality tomatoes are being sold at Rs. 120 to Rs. 130 per kilo in residential layouts.

Beans has touched Rs. 100 per kilo and it costs Rs. 110 to Rs. 120 in residential localities. Even push-cart vendors have jacked up prices due to demand.

The high prices have not only affected retail market but wholesale markets like Bandipalya too are experiencing the heat as customers are shying away from buying vegetables. Due to soaring prices, they are buying only minimum quantities.

Due to rains, the flowering of tomatoes and beans was delayed and also the flowers that had opened up were destroyed by heavy rains, said traders. According to them, the prices of tomatoes will remain high for the next fortnight and even if the prices of petrol and diesel is reduced in Karnataka following the Centre's move to slash excise duty on petrol and diesel by Rs. 8 and Rs. 6 per litre respectively, the vegetable prices will not come down.

Tomato has hit this level soaring from Rs. 65 last week. The prices of beans and long beans have doubled in a week. "This price rise is shocking. Usually when the price of chicken goes up, we stop buying chicken. But when the prices of vegetables shoot up, life becomes tough and we have to think twice even to prepare common dishes," said Rajalakshmi, a resident of New Sayyaji Rao Road.

Tomato and beans come from Hosur near Bengaluru. The heavy rains there have led to crop loss, resulting in shortage of vegetables. The price of tomato and beans will rise further, said vendors.

Prices of onion is hovering between Rs. 25 and Rs. 30 per kilo, potato at Rs. 30 to Rs. 35. Green chilli has come down drastically to Rs. 20 while brinjal costs Rs. 30 a kilo. Ladies Finger is selling at Rs. 40 while radish costs Rs. 30 per kilo. Turnip is selling at Rs. 35 to Rs. 40 per kilo.

Prices have not only affected weddings and households but also hit restaurateurs and hoteliers who had recently raised the prices for balancing cooking gas prices. Managing a small-time restaurant too is becoming a tough job with the increase in prices. Although vegetable prices have gone up, we can't increase the price of meals and snacks again and again as it will deter even regular customers," said Balaji, who runs a Darshini hotel in Vidyaranyapuram.

Mother 'orphans' her baby for lover

Mysuru, May 24 (KS)- The case of a woman handing over her nine-month-old baby boy to a passenger waiting for a Mysuru-bound bus at Raichur Bus Stand and fleeing from the spot, has taken a twist. It is revealed that the man, who brought the baby from Raichur to Mysuru, is actually the woman's lover identified as B. Raghu.

In a bid to project the baby as an 'orphan' as the baby was hampering their relationship, Raghu brought the baby to Mysuru and handed over the baby boy to Lashkar Police after cooking up a story.

The woman, who had handed over the baby to Raghu, is 21-year-old Renuka alias Mamata, wife of Yesuraj, a painter by profession and a resident of Gundi village in Yadgir. Raghu is a resident of Nuralakuppe village in H.D. Kote taluk of Mysuru.

It is learnt that Raghu and Renuka came to know each other through Instagram about one-and-a-half years ago and fell in love with each other. Meanwhile, Renuka, delivered a baby boy about eight months ago and in a bid to lead a separate life, Raghu and Renuka had decided to do away with the baby by projecting it as an orphan. This was revealed during Police interrogation.

According to their plan, Raghu went to Raichur on May 8 and was waiting at Raichur Bus Stand to board a bus to Mysuru during which a woman handed over the baby boy to Raghu asking him to take care of the baby, till she returns from the rest room.

As the woman did not return even after three hours, Raghu boarded the bus to Mysuru, came to Lashkar Police Station on May 9 and handed over the baby. Lashkar Police in turn handed over the baby to District Child Protection unit. Following a complaint from N. Apekshitha, an officer at Vikasana Jogula Dattu Seva Samsthe, the special adoption centre at Kyathangere in Mandya, seeking action against the parents of the baby boy, Lashkar Police, who registered a case under IPC Section 317 (Exposure and abandonment of child under twelve years, by parent or person having care of it), began their investigation.

Meanwhile, Yesuraj, the husband of Renuka, had lodged a complaint at Yadgir Rural Police Station about his missing wife and baby boy.

Lashkar Police, who got the information, conducted investigation and grilled Raghu, who spilled the beans.

The accused woman's lover B. Raghu, who handed over her baby to Mysuru Police on May 9.

The Cops, who served a notice to Renuka and Raghu under Cr.PC 41A (Notice of appearance before Police Officer), held an enquiry and released them after taking a written statement.

Steel wire barrier project takes off at Nagarahole

Tamil Nadu model effectively prevents wild elephants from entering human habitat

Forest officers examining sturdiness of the steel wire barricade that are fixed to hinges. Any amount of pressure exerted by the wild elephants will not break these wires.

Hanagodu, May 24 (Mahesh&BCT)- The initiative of erecting steel wire fences on forest boundaries in Karnataka to prevent elephants and other wild animals from straying into farmlands has taken off in Nagarahole National Park and this is the first-of-its kind initiative in Karnataka.

Steel wire fencing is a safe method adopted in Tamil Nadu to prevent elephants from entering villages. The process of laying the 4-km rope barrier is going on at Veeranahosahalli Range. The concrete pillars have been made to hold the poles and at present, curing works are on, Assistant Conservator of Forests A.V. Satish told Star of Mysore.

Earlier, the Forest Department has tried many ways to prevent animals from straying into human habitats — from solar fencing to rail fences, and even tried wired fencing on forest boundaries. However, none of them were found to be effective and elephants continued to raid the forests.

Apart from the boundaries and fringes of the Nagarahole Tiger Reserve, the menace is rampant in Kodagu, Hassan and Chikkamagalur. There are many instances where pachyderms have crossed the sturdy railway line barricade and have managed to learn how to sneak in and out of the forests within the available space between the tracks.

TAMIL NADU MODEL

In Tamil Nadu, villagers living in Thali and Jawalagiri forests in Hosur Forest Division have heaved a sigh of relief after the Forest Department erected a 12-km-long steel wire fence to prevent wild elephants entering residential areas and fields. The fence has been set up in a region from where wild elephants enter villages to raid farmlands every year.

Villagers grow ragi and a variety of vegetables, which get destroyed once elephants raid their farmlands. This resulted in huge loss of income for the farmers. Initially, 2-km fencing was laid and after it proved a success, a 10-km fence was erected. After the steel wire fence was laid, its strength was tested using kumki elephants. The results showed that the fence withstood the pressure and it was not damaged. The wire has been tested and the size has been standardised.

EFFICIENT AND FLEXIBLE SYSTEM

Under the initiative, cement pillars with a height of 13 metres are readied and each pillar weighs 1.5 tonnes. The pillars are then erected along the forest boundaries with 5-ft depth. Later five rows of wires are fixed with hinges. The pillars are divided into 'anchor posts' and 'intermediate posts'. Each 'anchor post' is laid with a gap of 250 metres and each 'intermediary post' is laid with a gap of 20 metres each.

EFFECTIVE MEANS

"This steel wire fencing is an effective means of controlling wild elephants. We have sent a proposal to the Government to erect such a fence at the Bheemanakatte-Allur area that borders Nagarahole National Park."

— Mahesh Kumar,
Director, Nagarahole Tiger Reserve

In all, for one kilometre there will be 5 'anchor posts' and 55 'intermediary posts'. In addition, to improve sturdiness, eucalyptus poles are laid at an interval of two metres. The wires are so strong that it bends if elephants push but will not break. Also, one kilometre of laying such wires will cost only Rs. 50 lakh but the railway barricade costs Rs. 1.5 crore for the same length.

Even if the wires loosen over time, they can be tightened and if the elephants have to be driven out of human habitats back to forests, the wires can be loosened. This flexible facility is absent in the railway barricades.

Concrete pillars weighing one tonne each are being readied at Veeranahosahalli of Nagarahole Tiger Reserve. The base that will be buried under earth is wider for a firm grip.

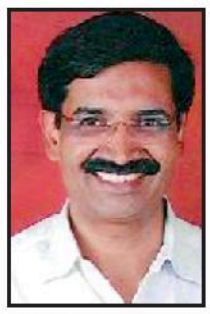
June 3 Legislative Council Polls

BJP announces four candidates

B.Y. Vijayendra misses the boat; Laxman Savadi, Keshava Prasad, Hemalatha Nayak, Chalavadi Narayanaswamy get tickets

B.Y. Vijayendra

Laxman Savadi



Keshava Prasad

Hemalatha Nayak

Narayanaswamy

Bengaluru, May 24 (KMS& BCT)- The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) has announced four candidates for the Legislative Council polls from Legislative Assembly where only MLAs have the power to vote. Today is the last day for filing nominations and there are seven seats for which the elections will be held on June 3.

The party has picked senior leaders Laxman Savadi, a former Deputy Chief Minister, S. Keshava Prasad of Bengaluru North and Hemalatha Nayak of Koppal, both BJP State Secretaries. However, the BJP has sprang a surprise by nominating Chalavadi Narayanaswamy of Bengaluru Rural District, who had joined BJP a couple of years ago from Congress.

Narayanaswamy joined BJP in 2018 and except for being very vocal against the Congress, he has not contributed anything much to the party. His selection has raised eyebrows within the party.

The BJP has also considered women's quota to accommodate Hemalatha Nayak and in addition, two senior leaders — Laxman Savadi and Keshava Prasad — have been given a chance.

The candidatures were announced this morning and now it has been confirmed that Vijayendra, son of former Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa has missed the boat. The core committee party leaders met under the leadership of BJP Karnataka In-Charge Arun Singh and finalised the names.

The party unit in Karnataka had sent a list to the High Command that had Vijayendra's name as the first one. But the High Command turned down the proposal and stressed that dynastic politics must not be fostered.

The Yediyurappa family already has an MP (B.Y. Raghavendra) and Yediyurappa is himself an MLA. The party was not inclined to give Vijayendra a chance to accommodate one more member from the same family.

Party sources told Star of Mysore that Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai tried his best to get a ticket for Vijayendra but the High Command preferred to listen to RSS leaders who said Vijayendra is an MLA candidate and a winning horse. The RSS leaders conveyed the message that Vijayendra is still young and has a long career.

JD(S) gives ticket to T. A. Saravana

Bengaluru, May 24 (KMS& DM)- Soon after the BJP officially announced its candidates (Laxman Savadi, Hemalatha Nayak, Keshava Prasad and Chalavadi Narayanaswamy) for the Legislative Council (LC) polls from the State Assembly, the JD(S) announced this morning that it will be fielding T.A. Saravana, a former MLC, as the party candidate.

Following his nomination as the party candidate, T.A. Saravana filed his nomination at the Vidhana Soudha this afternoon, with today being the last day for filing of nomination papers.

The biennial polls to the seven vacant LC seats will take place on June 3. While the Congress announced its candidates (Nagaraj Yadav and Abdul Jabbar) on Monday, the BJP announced its candidates this morning, which was soon followed by the JD(S). While the ruling BJP can win four seats out of its own strength in the Assembly, the Congress can win 2 seats and the JD(S) one seat and accordingly, all the three parties have made nominations based on their numbers in the Assembly.

Abdul Jabbar and Nagaraj Yadav get Congress tickets

Bengaluru, May 24 (KMS& DM)- After much dilly-dallying, the Congress on Monday named its candidates for the Legislative Council (LC) polls from the State Assembly, the polls for which will take place on June 3.

According to the list announced by the Congress High Command, senior Congress leaders K. Abdul Jabbar and M. Nagaraj Yadav have been nominated by the party for the LC polls.

While Jabbar is a former MLC, Nagaraj Yadav had served as BMTC Chairman when Siddharamaiah was the Chief Minister. The announcement of candidates has come as a big disappointment for veteran Congress leader from North Karnataka S.R. Patil and others, who had aspired for the ticket.

Abdul Jabbar

Nagaraj Yadav

The selection of candidates has also come as a shock for both KPCC President D.K. Shivakumar and Opposition Leader Siddharamaiah. While Shivakumar is said to have batted for S.R. Patil and Mansoor Ali Khan, son of former Union Minister Rahman Khan, Siddharamaiah had backed former Minister M.R. Seetharam and Ivan D'Souza.

The biennial election to fill up seven LC seats is scheduled to take place on June 3. The Congress named only two candidates as the party has the strength to elect two members.

UoM hostel inmates seek better facilities, stage protest

Mysuru, May 24 (PM&KS)- About 100 University of Mysore (UoM) hostel inmates, under the banner of Mysore University Research Scholar Association and Dalit Students' Federation, staged a protest in front of Post Graduate Hostel for Men, Block-2 in Manasagangothri campus this morning, seeking better facilities in all UoM hostels.

Association Working President Basavaraju, speaking to SOM said that the A, B and C Blocks of the new PG Hostel were facing acute drinking water problems, forcing the inmates to fetch drinking water from nearby RO water units.

Pointing out that the new building has been constructed and also inaugurated a year back, he said that the new hostel building is yet to see students as UoM officials were not taking any admissions.

Alleging that the roofs of the A, B and C hostel blocks were leaking, Basavaraju said that most of the hot water geysers have become defunct besides stating that the road to the hostel blocks turns slushy during rains. He also said that the food being provided to hostel inmates was not of good quality.

Basavaraju said that UoM Vice-Chancellor (VC) Prof. G. Hemantha Kumar arrived at the spot and heard the grievances. "We withdrew the protest after the VC assured of solving the problems within a week," he added. Association President Nataraj Shivanna, Hon. President Mahesh Sosale, Federation President Manikantaswamy and others were present.

"We are looking at the possibility of creating a Guinness World Record for the second time (Mysuru created a Guinness Records in 2017 in the largest yoga lesson category) and meetings will be held to chalk out the ways and means. As PM Modi is attending the event, the world's attention will be on Mysuru. All necessary measures will be taken to ensure that Mysuru's image is not sullied," Somashekar added.

The tourism and hospitality sectors will get a big boost and already, there have been enquiries of participation in the yoga performance from Mandya and Bengaluru. Plans will be chalked out to make the event incident-free and grand success, the Minister said.

Reporters drew the Minister's attention into the pathetic condition of Mysuru roads, to which, Somashekar said that he would meet CM Bommai after he returns from Davos on May 26. However, there was no explanation on how the roads will get a facelift in such a short time.

MP Pratap Simha, MLAs S.A. Ramdas and L. Nagendra, MUDA Chairman H.V. Rajeev and others were present at the press meet.

Trenches will be dug to lay the pipelines and the requisition was submitted to the MCC by the company on May 9 this year. The MCC has fixed the road-cutting fees as per the guidelines of the State Government and is also levying inspection fees as per norms.

MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy told Star of Mysore that the Council has approved the project at its meeting on Apr. 29 and the announcement was made by the Mayor (in-charge). "As the Council has approved the project, we have to issue the list of demands and as such, the same has been issued," he said.

In-Charge Mayor Sunanda Palanetra said that she was happy that the project was approved and will begin implementation during her term. "Yes, there was opposition from the elected representatives but the Council has passed a resolution in this regard. It is a people-friendly project and it will be implemented in phases," she said.

MP Pratap Simha, who is a strong advocate of the project welcomed the MCC approval and said "We need to change as per the needs of the people and just to oppose a project for the sake of opposing it is not acceptable. People are intelligent and they will make a wise decision. The PNG project is eco-friendly, public-friendly and also secure. I am happy that the project is seeing the light of the day," the MP said.

Chilli-pepper sauce leaks from truck; six students ill

Vehicle seized at Makutta gate; Siddapura, Virajpet residents complain of throat irritation

Kushalnagar, May 24 (Akshay & BCT)- Six students from a school at Siddapura were admitted to a hospital as they inhaled the gas mixed with fumes of chilli-pepper sauce concentration that leaked from a truck this morning.

They complained of nausea, cough, breathlessness and severe throat irritation. The lorry was passing through Siddapura from Kushalnagar and was headed towards Kerala through Virajpet. The truck driver and staff inside the vehicle did not notice the leak and the sauce concentration spilled over the entire route from Kushalnagar to the Kerala border at Perumbadi.

The truck was finally intercepted at the Makutta border by the Police, Forest and Health Department staff and it has been seized to plug the leak. The students were given oxygen immediately at Siddapura Hospital and fortunately, the hospital had sufficient emergency stocks.

Not only children, merchants and residents along the route and in Virajpet town too complained of nausea and irritation in the throat. Taluk Health Officer Yathiraj told Star of Mysore that the truck was speeding from Kushalnagar and enough precautions were not taken to transport the ingredient. Many people were found roaming around with masks and were also covering their faces in Siddapura and Virajpet.

"As it was a chilli-pepper concentrate, it had to be sealed and carried across the areas. But we have found that the truck was covered in tarpaulin and the sauce had spilled over from the rear end. Our staff and health officers have reached the spot at Makutta and are examining the truck," he said.

Alerted by the sauce leak, the District Administration acted swiftly and asked ASHA workers and Health staff to conduct a door-to-door survey all along the route to check if the incident has had any adverse effect. Though teams visited shops and houses on the route, no serious illness was observed.

The students who are in the hospital will be kept under observation till evening and in case they develop further complications, they will be shifted to Madikeri District Hospital, Yathiraj added.

WORD OF THE DAY

Nonpareil

Pronunciation: nahn-puh-REL.
Meaning: Nonpareil means "having no equal."
Origin: Trace nonpareil back to its Middle French origins and you'll find that it comes from a term meaning "not equal." Pareil itself comes from a Latin par, which means "equal," and non- is a common prefix meaning "not." In addition to its adjectival use, nonpareil also functions as a noun describing an individual of unequaled excellence ("the nonpareil of cellists"), and as the name of a chocolate candy disk covered with small sugar pellets.
Example: "A multitasker nonpareil, he is a musician, actor, director, author, artist, poet, playwright and composer, not to mention a self-styled pierogi-making king...." — Bill Brownstein

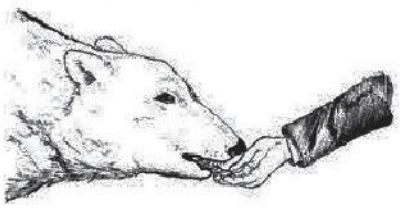
THE ODD WORD

Naevus

Birthmark.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Never bite the hand that feeds you



Meaning: It explains the importance of acting respectfully towards those you depend upon.
Origin: The origin of the phrase 'Never bite the hand that feeds you' isn't known. One of the first times it was seen in print was during the 18th century, when political writer Edmund Burke said, "having looked to government for bread, on the first scarcity they will turn and bite the hand that fed them." The term is believed to be hundreds of years old.
Example: "I know the boss isn't always nice, but remember: Never bite the hand that feeds you."

QUOTE BOX

I don't know where my road is going, but I know that I walk better when I hold your hand. —Alfred de Musset
